SIX Swiss Exchange would like to inform the participants of changes in its service offering for trading without pre-trade transparency.

The “SIX Swiss Exchange Liquidnet Service” (SLS) for trading Swiss and pan-european Equities without pre-trade transparency at mid-point prices will be decommissioned in the Production environment as of 15 October 2018.

The pan-European liquidity pool SLS was launched in July 2011 as a unique service pioneered by SIX Swiss Exchange and Liquidnet. It facilitated block trading in a broad universe of equities by linking the institutional non-displayed marketplace of Liquidnet with the Swiss exchange.

The decommissioning of SLS also has regulatory impact. SIX Swiss Exchange will update the affected Directives and Guidelines and publish them on the website one month in advance of the service being decommissioned.

Further details in relation to the decommissioning of the SLS offering will be provided to participants trading on SLS in due course in the SMR7.2 – Participant Readiness brochure.

Inspired by the growing demand for non-displayed trading, SIX broadened its Exchange Services portfolio in October 2016 by adding its own non-displayed pool: SwissAtMid provides clients with price improvement opportunities via Mid-Point executions in its Blue Chip and Mid-/Small -Cap trading segments. Volumes in SwissAtMid have been continuously rising and the recent introduction of new "Plus" orders further increases the flexibility and efficiency of participants trading on the Swiss market.
